EXPRESSIONS

—The Civil Marriage debate in the Chamber of Representatives was continued on Tuesday and was again postponed to another day. The public are getting rather tired of the subject, and since the conclusion seems a foregone conclusion we would suggest to the distinguished but rather wordy orators who are occupying the time of the Chamber and keeping back other important business that they should put some restraint on their verbosity and "come to the point," that is to say, to the voting.

—The best part of Tuesday's debate was the speech of Sr. Rodriguez who pointed out, with a little truth, that to the Church marriage was a material and rather unwholesome state, only accepted as a matter of expediency, and that if the hideous and unnatural doctrines of the Fathers, which looked on all corporal functions as sinful, were to be universally followed, there would be no more marriage or living in marriage, and with the death of its present members the human race would cease to exist.

—It is an extraordinary phase of the average human character, and one that requires a wiser head than ours to explain, that whilst in all matters of science, health, comfort and present civilization people despise the ideas of past generations and look forward to the newest teachers and the most recent discoveries; in matters of morality and religion they persist in harking back to the authorities of the darkest ages, men who even boasted of their ignorance and who did their best to extinguish all light of reason and humanity, and who could be put to blush by the ordinary schoolboy of today.

—Many strange examples of this may be found in the debates here and in Buenos Aires on this Civil Marriage question. For instance, the continual references to the Council of Trent,

This council was held in 1515 and was composed for the most part of persons not only ignorant of but absolutely opposed to all science, all laws of reason and all knowledge of human nature. Moreover, they were swayed by acknowledged political motives, and had in view the one end of the glorification and extension—not of morality or of religion—but of the Roman Church, whose immoralities and monstrosities were then at their greatest height. And yet, in this Nineteenth century, we, who would not accept the opinion of those men on any simple matter of business, science, or ordinary life, are asked to believe that their unphilosophical and dogmatic edicts on morality and religion were absolute and final and that we know less than they did.

—The orators who try to impose the Council of Trent and the Holy Fathers on people of the present epoch should also try to persuade us that the earth is flat and the sun moves round it, or that man is degenerating backward instead of evolving forward. So far as we are concerned they would be as successful in the one attempt as in the other.

—Nearly three weeks ago the B. Aires

Rowing Club sent a challenge to our Rowing Club which was accepted, and the names of our crew were forthwith furnished. The B. Aires Club, although asked more than once, have not yet given us the names of their crew. This is neither particularly courteous nor fair. If our men are to compete they have a right to know against whom they are to compete and should not be expected

Gateshead on Saturday night, was begun yesterday, and adjourned. The police are looking out for an ironworker of Birtley who is said to have tried to force his attentions on the deceased, and who has absconded. Dr. Phillips, who made the post-mortem examination of the body of Annie Chapman, the victim of the last murder at Whitechapel, has gone to Birtley to ascertain the exact nature of the mutilation in this new outrage.

At the Central Criminal Court yesterday, a medical man named James Gloster was charged with the wilful murder of Eliza Jane Schummacher. Mr. Poland and Mr. C. Matthews prosecuted on behalf of the Crown. The case was not concluded at the rising of the Court.

Eddie Guerin alias George McCall, and Frank Diago, alias Smith, were charged at the Bow Street Police-court yesterday, under the Extradition Acts, with having stolen bank notes to the value of 9,000l. from the office of the Credit Lyonnais, at Lyons. Diago was committed for trial in France, and Guerin was remanded for evidence as to his nationality.

The case in which William Martin, described as a gentleman, was charged with having thrown vitriol on a governess named Winifred Brown, in the Holloway-road, came again yesterday before Mr. Cooke, at the Marylebone Police-court. The defence was that the act was done by mistake. Mr. Cooke committed the prisoner for trial and bail.

At the Westminster Police-court yesterday, two youths named Joseph Winton and John Morris were each fined 40s. or one month's hard labour, for disorderly conduct in the Marlborough-road, Chelsea. It was stated to be the amusement of a gang of lads in that district to push people off the pavement, and pelt them with filthy missiles, using bad language, and also to discharge fireworks in the highways. The tradespeople had memorised the police, and hence the special vigilance which resulted in the arrest of two of the gang.

Wednesday, Sept. 26.

The complete defeat of the Thibetans in the Jelep Pass is announced by our Simla Correspondent. The loss of the enemy amounted to four hundred killed and wounded. On the British side, Colonel Broadhead lost his right hand and nine fingers were wounded. It is believed, adds our Correspondent, that this action will put an end to the pretensions of the Lamas upon Sikkim.

From Cairo it is reported that General Sir F. Grenfell and Colonel Kitchener will proceed at once on their arrival at that city to Suakin. It is probable that further reinforcements for the latter place will be sent forward shortly.

The Emin Relief Committee have received news from Suakin of the arrival there of ten travellers from Khartoum, one of whom states that a Christian with a large force of blacks is strongly established in the Bah-el-Ghazal province. The roads to Berber and Khartoum are said to be fairly safe for messengers, and important news, it is expected, may be received at any time.

The Princess of Wales, with Princesses Louise, Victoria, and Maud, arrived in London yesterday from the Continent.

Sir L. Trevelyan, M.P., presiding last night at a Permissive Bill meeting in Glasgow, spoke hopefully of the prospects of local option. In referring to the licensing proposals of the Local Government Bill, he said that if they had been carried into effect, temperance advocates might have bidden good-bye for ever to temperance reform. Those proposals would have saddled the country with a fresh national debt of enormous magnitude, the principal of which could never have been paid off, and consequently the interest would have had to be paid to the end of time.

Yesterday Mr. Dillon presided at a meeting of the National League in Dublin. He expressed gratitude for the sympathy which had been shown him, and said that he was found guilty upon evidence which no Crown prosecutor would place before a packed jury. The English people were being converted to Home Rule at a wonderful rate. He challenged his critics to place before the country a better plan than the Plan of Campaign for the purposes for which it had been designed.

An application was made yesterday in Dublin to Mr. Justice Gibson, Vacation Judge, for an order for the quashing of the verdict in the Mandeville inquest, but the judge held that the case was not urgent, and adjourned the matter till November.

The annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce was commenced yesterday at Cardiff under the presidency of Colonel Hill, M.P., who in his address said they had happily to congratulate themselves on a decided improvement in trade. Among the subjects discussed were technical education, Private Bill legislation, railway rates and charges, the development of canals, and the amendment of the Joint Stock Companies Acts.

The London Baptist Association passed a resolution yesterday to the effect that no candidate for the London School Board ought to receive support from members of Baptist churches who would not oppose any further aid being given to denominational schools from imperial or local funds.

A large meeting was held last night at the Metropolitan Tabernacle in support of the South-west Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. H. Lafone, M.P., presided, and the chief speakers were the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, Canon Wilberforce, and Sir T. Chambers.

A meeting of the Committee of the Congregational Union of England and Wales was held yesterday, at the Memorial Hall, when a letter was read from the Rev. Griffith John, of Hongkong, declining the chairmanship of the Congregational Union, and it was agreed to ask the Rev. Dr. Fiddling, President of the Yorkshire Independent College, to occupy the chair for the ensuing year.

Harvest home was celebrated yesterday at the Philanthropic Society's Farm School, Redhill. The society is a hundred years old this year. It claims to have been the first to deal with juvenile crime in a hopeful, systematic way.

Last evening there was a gathering of thirty survivors of the relief of Lucknow, at the Hotel Metropole, Lord Napier of Magdala presiding.

The Council of the National Rifle Association held a meeting yesterday to consider where the new Wimbledon should be. Lord Wantage presided. A deputation attended to urge the claims of Cranbrook Chase. Eventually the Council decided that before finally adopting either the Berkshire or the Staffordshire site there should be further inquiry as to the possibility of obtaining a suitable site within a reasonable distance of the metropolis, and that a committee should be appointed to communicate with the Government on the subject.

The Society of Engineers paid a visit yesterday to the works of the London and South-Western Railway Company at Nine Elms.

At Newmarket yesterday the Great Fox Stakes were won, by the Duke of Portland's Ayrshire. The other races resulted as follows: All-Aged Trial Stakes, Duke of Westminster's Broomstick; Selling Plate, Mr. N. de Rothschild's Kettar; Buckenham Stakes, Duke of Portland's Donovon; First Nursery Plate, Mr. J. Hammond's Laureate; Hoveaven Stakes, Prince Soltykoff's Gold (w. o.); Maiden Plate, Lord Rodney's Charlotte; Thirty-ninth Tactical Produce Stakes, Duke of Beaufort's Ibis d'Or.—At Llanark the following were the results: Wishaw Handicap, Mr. C. J. Merry's Cardinal; Hunter's Selling Plate, Mr. R. Dick's Colchester; Innkeepers' Plate, Mr. Hamilton's Chieftain; Glasgow Handicap, Mr. Melville's Horton; Douglas Nursery Handicap, Mr. C. J. Cunningham's Blair Hope; Clyde Plate, Mr. R. Osborne's Countess Lilian.

At the Central Criminal Court yesterday, James Gloster, a medical man, charged with the murder of Eliza Jane Schummacher, in Pimlico, was acquitted.

Yesterday, at the Marylebone Police-court, a young man named James Mackill, of Hamilton, Lanarkshire, was charged with having caused the death of John King by throwing him out of a train in the Ilverstock-hill tunnel on the 11th inst. The inquiry was adjourned.

In London last week 2,663 births and 1,298 deaths were registered. Allowing for increase of population, the births were 218 and the deaths 100 below the average numbers in the corresponding weeks of the last ten years. The annual death-rate per thousand from all causes, which had been 16.0 and 16.2 in the two preceding weeks, declined last week to 15.8, a lower rate than has prevailed in any week since the 3rd of July last. During the twelve weeks ending on Saturday last, the death-rate averaged 16.2 per 1,000, and was 3.5 below the mean rate in the corresponding periods of the ten years 1878-87. The deaths registered last week in 28 great towns of England and Wales corresponded to an annual rate of 18.0 per 1,000 of their aggregate population.

Thursday, Sept. 27.

Our Berlin Correspondent announces that the diary kept by the Emperor Frederick during the war of 1870, is about to be published, although the Government, it is said, is trying to prevent its issue. The Veitnische Zeitung states that the further issue of the recently published diary has been prohibited.

A Conference of Dissident Liberals was held yesterday at Nottingham, Mr. Powell Williams, M.P., in the chair. An approving letter from Lord Selborne was read. To one of the resolutions, which stated that the unity of the Empire was imperilled by Mr. Gladstone's scheme, a delegate moved an amendment, to the effect that Mr. Gladstone having conceded the principle of the retention of the Irish members at Westminster, the demand for Home Rule was just and reasonable, and the difference in the Liberal party was no longer justifiable. The chairman said the delegate was plainly not a Liberal Unionist at all, and called on the meeting to say whether he heard. The meeting decided that he should not be heard, and then carried the resolution.

Mr. Chamberlain addressed a large meeting in the evening, arguing that Mr. Gladstone had taken his policy from Mr. Parnell, and that the Liberal leaders wanted place and power, that their grievances had been redressed, that law must be enforced, that the agitation in Ireland had its origin in America, and that the efforts to make government in Ireland impossible had failed because of the resolution of Mr. Parnell.

The meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Cardiff was concluded yesterday. Resolutions were passed in favour of national defence, the fusion of the legal profession, the adoption of the decimal system, the extension of the Factory Acts to India, and the appointment of a Minister of Commerce.

Sir M. Hicks-Beach spoke at Cardiff last night, at a dinner given by the Municipality of Butte to the delegates attending the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and reviewed the commercial legislation of the past session.

The Executive Committee of the Liberator Society has adopted a minute protesting against certain recommendations in the majority report of the Royal Commission on the working of the Elementary Education Acts.

Mr. J. Redmond, M.P., was sentenced at Wexford yesterday to five weeks' imprisonment without hard labour.

Lord Brassey was presented yesterday at Normans Court with a testimonial subscribed for by inhabitants of Hastings, without regard to party. The testimonial included a portrait of Lord Brassey, which it had been intended to present to Lady Brassey.

Sir Joseph Lee, of Manchester, has received a letter from the Queen expressing her gratification on learning of the success of the Jubilee Exhibition last year.

Yesterday the formal opening of the new Surrey Chapel in Blackfriars-road took place. The sermon in the afternoon was preached by the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon. In the evening a public meeting was held.

The team of Maori football players arrived at Plymouth yesterday from Melbourne.

At Newmarket yesterday, the Great Eastern Railway Handicap was won by Sir R. Jardine's Wise Man, Lord Colthorpe's Sandal being second, and Lord Hastings's Maiden Belle third. The other races resulted as follows: Fourth Zeland Stakes, Duke of Westminster's Bidda; Sweepstakes, Sir F. Johnstone's Simonia; Granby Plate, Sir G. Chetwynd's Cedar; Selling Plate, Mr. R. H. Combe's Volta; Hopeful Stakes, Duke of Portland's Conovon; Welter Handicap, Lord Gerard's Mont d'Or; Second Nursery Plate, Mr. E. N. Good's Jack Frost; Fortieth Triennial Produce Stakes, Sir G. Chetwynd's Grafton. At the Lank meeting the races resulted as follows: Hamilton Welter Handicap, Mr. W. Stevenson's Prorogative; Monkslands Selling Welter Handicap, Mr. W. F. Lee's Assyria; Jerviswood Hunters' Plate, Mr. R. Dick's Colchester; Silver Bells Handicap, Mr. Melville's Horton; Leo Nursery Handicap, Mr. J. H. Shepherd's Hedon; Handicap Hurdle Plate, Mr. J. Craig's Meldrum.

Messrs. Tattersall held a sale of thoroughbred stock yesterday in the Park Paddock, Newmarket.

The inquest on Annie Chapman, the last victim in the Whitechapel murders, was concluded yesterday. The Coroner (Mr. Wynne Baxter), in summing-up, added an important statement to the effect that after the publication of the evidence that portions had been taken from the body, the curator of a pathological museum informed him that some months ago an American offered 200 each for specimens of that organ. This fact, coupled with the anatomical knowledge shown in the murder, led the Coroner to conclude that the assassin was an assassin at post-mortem examinations, or at least had frequented post-mortem rooms. The jury returned a verdict of "Wilful murder against some person or persons unknown."

At the Wandsworth Police court yesterday James Young surrendered to his bail to answer the charge of shooting Edgar Woolley, a draper's assistant, of High-street, Merton. The prosecutor gave evidence, and was cross-examined as to his relations with the prisoner's daughter. The prisoner was remanded.

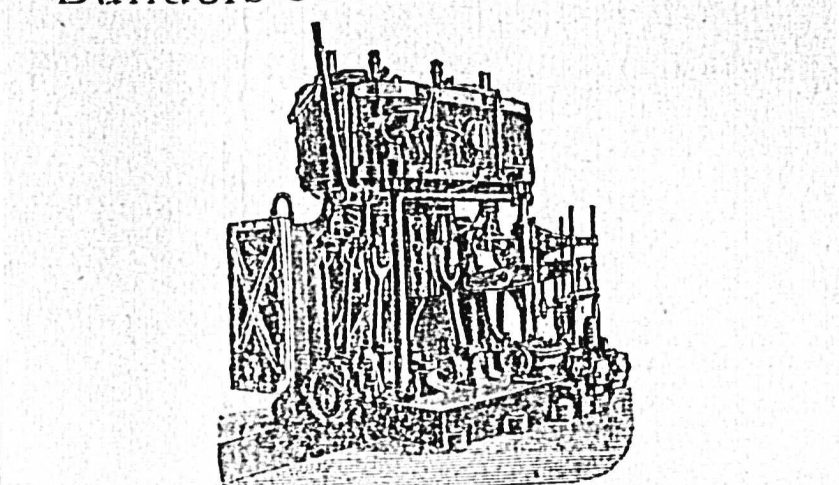

HOW THE TIGER KILLS AND EATS

In a paper read before the Bombay Natural History Society recently, and published in its journal, Mr. Inventory, a noted shikari, discussed the habits of the tiger, and especially the mode in which it kills and eats its prey. Some think he seizes by the throat, others by the nape of the neck from above. Mr. Inventory has examined scores of slain animals with special reference to this point, and in every case but one the throat was seized from below. The exception was an old bear who had been seized by the back of the neck from above. One of a single file of villagers who was once seized by the nape of the neck by a man-eater, but saved by his companions, had made when he recovered his senses what had happened. Whether dislocation of the neck takes place is doubtful. The tiger hunting leopards always kill by pressure on the windpipe, without breaking the skin; possibly the tiger kills in the same way. It is only by accident, if at all, that tigers in killing sever any important vein or artery, and no blood to speak of flows from the throat wounds. Very large and powerful animals like the bull, buffalo, and lion, if attacked at all, are in the first instance attacked from the rear with a view to disable them. Having killed, the tiger almost invariably begins eating a hind quarter, consuming one or probably both. Sometimes he leaves the stomach and intestines as they are; sometimes he will remove them to one side, making a neat parcel of them. A tiger and tigress together will finish an ordinary sized animal at once, leaving only the head. In this case it is probable that the second begins at the fore quarter. Animals are never eaten where they are killed, but are always dragged a short distance. They are not lifted clear of the ground, but dragged. Having gorged himself, the tiger sometimes lies close by his prey, but if it is hot weather and there are hills in the neighbourhood he will go a long distance off before resting for the day. He prefers to be in a cool cave or in a breeze on the hill-side than in the close, hot jungle. He returns next night and finishes what is left, but he never eats a second time on the same spot, dragging the remains of the prey 10 or 50 yards off. Sportsmen coming on a half-devoured animal and desiring to catch the tiger, tie the prey to a tree. The tiger takes about two hours' steady eating to finish the fore quarters of a bullock. Mr. Inventory sat over a small tigress one night who ate for ten minutes, then went away for 24, probably to drink, and on her return ate steadily for two and a quarter hours. He did not fire, as he could not see her. Tigers are cannibals; they will make their meals off each other. They are supposed to kill once in five or six days, and no doubt the tiger after a heavy feed does not care to hunt much for a few days: but a tiger kills whenever he can. They have been known to kill on 11 consecutive nights. Mr. Inventory believes that animals killed by tigers suffer little beyond the pain of a few seconds. The shock produces a stupor and dreaminess in which there is no sense of pain or feeling of terror. The powerful stroke of the fore paw of the tiger is a action; he clutches with his claw as one might with the fingers, but does not strike a blow. Tigers wander immense distances at night, and as they like easy going, they go on roads and paths. They do not like to move during the heat of the day, as the hot ground burns their pads and makes them raw. They can on occasion climb trees. In Salsote one climbed after a certain Pan loo, but could not reach him and retired. Pandoo, thinking the coast clear, got down and ran towards home, but on the way was caught by the tiger and killed. The inquest reported stated that Pandoo died of the tiger eating him; there was no other cause of death. Nothing was left except some fingers, which probably belonged to the right or left hand. Natives have a belief that the ghosts of the man-eater's victims ride in his head and warn him of danger, or point the way to fresh victims.
