THE POSITION IN IRELAND. - FROM AN IRISH CORRESPONDENT.

Dublin, April 2. From what I can learn I am inclined to think that the western part of the County Clare is in a very troubled state. East Clare and the whole of Kerry have been to outward seeming quieted, although the fires are still smouldering doubt that the bringing to justice of the detection of crime this might be done; its occupants into twenty feet of water, police are unfit in training and in were drowned. Mr. Burt and his niece equipment for such useful offices. Added were rescued in an exhausted state, and upon the rooted hatred to the law which centuries of tyrany have engendered in the Irish peasant's mind. The world is not their friend, nor the world's law, and they back the law with hate and loathing. In this way crimes go unpunished and undetected which under a native administration would between law and opinion is so strong that it has twisted the average conscience. In the interest of law itself a way must be had out of this frightful evil, and Home Rule seems the rational and ready way.

said George Barton and Carlos H. Bardon for the enterton to cause an appearance to be enter gret that a powerful Government like that of Germany did not find it possible to take a more liberal view of the condition of Samoan life and civilisation and of the unfortunate condition of the native King, who, regarding himself as the rightful ruler, could point in confirmation of his title to a long series of acknowledgments by all treaty Powers. The Secretary of State goes on to say that in the opinion of the Government of the United States the course adopted by Germany cannot be regard as marked by that just consideration wich the ancient friendship of the United States and Germany, entitles the former to expect, and that the present condition of affairs in the Samoan Islands cannot in view of the circumstances under which it was brought about, and is still maintained, be regarded by the United States as satisfactory.

THE UNITED STATES

Washington, April 2. Mr. Mills's Tariff Bill was reported to the House of Representatives to-day from the Ways and Means Committee, The Republican section of the Committee submitted the minority report, which charges the majority with sectionalism in that they reduce the tariff on but two articles of Southern production-namely sugar and rice, while they have commenced wholesale slaughter of the productions of the North and North.

The situation here is unchanged, but the men of several more lines centering here threaten to strike in case they should be compelled to handle the cars of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy, The Chicago, Milwalkee, and St. Paul has, owing to the existing troubles, paid off 5,000 yard and switch men on its system.
