SUNDAY EDITION

A BAD LOOK-OUT,

The political horizon in Europe has been for some time past, and still continues to be, cloudy and threatening. The rulers have peace in their mouths, it is true, but there is little doubt that many of them have war in their hearts. On every hand one reads of conscrip-tions, armaments, fortifications, mobili-zations, and the multiplication of armies. Industrialism, the beneficent, is being crushed into the background, whilst militarism, the maleficent, is daily assuming greater sway. Even in England forced military service has been serious-ly proposed and debated. What wonder then that people of all classes and all countries, not wishing to be taken from the useful and honourable sphere of a peaceful, industrial life to be corrupted and topping the mark from the B. A. and tormented by the tyrannies of mili-tary discipline, to have the best years of their life rulned and their family ties violated, perhaps their very lives sacrificed, to satisfy the greed, ambition or blood thirstiness of their rulers should like the end of that road is a paper mill. seek in another land, another continent, that security for peaceful labour which they no longer flud in Europe. The enormous flood of emigrants which have left Europe in the last twelve months for the chief ports of North and South America, may, we think, be attributed man Hans are no longer content to fly at and, for a wonder, was acted upon.

Finding they can no longer do this in their own country, and finding them-selves taxed to starvation to support fleets omparative peace and more room for labour, to the United States, Brazil, or the River Plate. So serious has this drain of emigration become, that one country, Italy, has found it necessary to impose impediments lest she should be left without soldiers in case of war, and other countries also find it a matter of serious consideration.

Of the thousands who, for these or any other reasons, have left Europe during this present year, Brazil has received some 130,000 and the Argentine Republic some 175,000. THR NATIONAL BANK.

The scheme for increasing the capital of the National Bank is constructed disregarded with a pertinacity worthy upon the following bases.—The capital of a better cause. for shares to the amount of 4 million dollars at par, giving a bond for that sum. The shares are not to be disposed of until this bond has been not. of until this bond has been paid. The remaining 8 millions are to be distributed among shareholders, at par, $ 10 00 out the streets in uniform squares, being attl. Jones the streets in uniform squares, being paid down, the rest in instalments of 10 0'o at 30 days notice. Go-vernment will create a debt bearing 6 o'o interest and 1 o'o accucharge of the bond, the payment being and not least, the very low standard of the Jefatura. guaranteed by the dividends on the shares. Government shall appoint the President and five of the Board of Di-President and five of the Board of Di-rectors. The Bank shall be exempt from mortar, and of brains as well. any kind of taxation. The mortgage cedulas issued by the bank shall be exclusively guaranteed by the State. In Government offices no money is to be received except in gold or in notes of the National administration of the Penitentiary, and as good as tells them received except in gold or in notes of the National Bank. Enrelym silver coins are National Bank. Foreign silver coins are they are exceeding the province of shall be allowed to issue notes in proportion to the increased capital. The and five cents.

This scheme, it will be observed, tends to make the Bank, far more of a State institution than it has yet been, giving the State a direct monetary interest in the Bank, and, by the nomination of the President and five Directors, very considerable influence in its management. It slice important step further also goes an important step further thus defended might well exclaim, save towards unity of emission by making the votes of the Bank the only legal paper tender in Government offices.

The scheme, however, which is not without its obvious elements of danger, has not been well received by the commercial public and the independent press, and has already had a lowering effect on the value of the Bank's shares on the Stock Exchange. Referring to this the Siglo of yesterday morning speaks as follows, - Deputy Carvo told the Chambers yesterday that the National Bank was only National in name and in the bearing the coat of arms on its notes. This, too, is repeated by the commerce and producers of the Repub-lic, on account of the small services lent by the institution, services quite out of shares in the Bank seems to us most the River Plate.
