GERMANY AND SAMOA.

A continuation of the White Book on Samoa has been submitted to the German Parliament.

The opinion held by the German Government of the diplomatic capacity of its representative at Apia, and the strong disapproval felt by Prince Bismark of Dr. Knappe's proceedings, is clearly shown in the note dated 9th March, which the Chancellor sent to Dr. Stuebel, who replaced Dr. Knappe after his recall. In this Note the Chancellor says: «The statements made in the report of Consul Knappe concerning the events in the Samoan Islands confirm my supposition that in his intercourse with the representatives of the foreign Powers and with the natives, he did not act with that calmness and deliberation which is absolutely necessary in the treatment of international questions. Besides this, Dr. Knappe's interpretation of our policy—with which he must be acquainted, as he was employed in the Foreign Office here—and his repeated assertions that he has been authorised or ordered by the Imperial Government to declare war, or even only a state of siege, are founded on a gratuitous assumption or on a scarcely comprehensible mistake.»

The Chancellor then disputes the right of the German Consul to place British and American subjects under German martial law. «I am under the impression,» ironically writes Prince Bismarck, «that the letter from Capt Brandeis and the presence of three German men-of-war have robbed Dr. Knappe of his composure, Towards his colleagues his tone appears to me to be rude and excited; sometimes he even goes so far as to indulge in threats against the other Consuls.» In the same way Prince Bismarck disapproves of and overrides the Consul's proclamation according to which the administration of the Samoan Islands was to be entirely concentrated in German hands. As to Dr, Knappe's advice that an annexation of Samoa by Germany would be the best solution of the question, the Chancellor declares again that it is out of the question to contemplate any change in the present political position of Samoa without an agreement with England and the United States.

EMIGRATION CLUBS.

That there are a great many working men in this country who would emigrate, if they only had the wherewithal, admits of no controversy, We make no doubt that every editor of a working class journal could depose to that fact were evidence required. In former times, the monetary difficulty did not operate so seriously, it being the custom of many colonies to attract labour by offering either free or assisted passages. That has now almost ceased as regards Greater Britain, while the very fact that so many English and Irish emigrants are now availing themselves of free conveyance to the Plate shows conclusively that they will go almost anywhere to try to mend their fortunes.

Might not the monetary difficulty be surmounted by establishing emigration clubs under State control, so as to afford the members a guarantee of honest management? Clubs for the purpose have been established, we are aware, in many parts of the country, and have done no little service in diminishing the congestion of our too prolific population. But a more general and systematic effect is needed to cope with the over crowding evil, and the necessary impetus can only come from the State. It may be said, perhaps, that workmen can help themselves in the matter by depositing a portion of their weekly savings in the postal savings bank, until the amount required for passage money has accumulated.

Unfortunately, it is as easy to withdraw as to deposit, and experience proves that in most cases where this has been attempted, the emigration fund has come to be regarded as a fund for general purposes. Nothing of the sort could happen in emigration clubs, if it were made the rule that money once paid in could not be withdrawn for any purpose whatever, except at the death of the subscriber for the benefit of his family. And if the State paid the expenses of management and allowed a higher rate of interest on deposits than the postal savings banks can afford, any little loss would be repaid a thousand fold by the check on over crowding.

THE DRUNKENNESS OF SPECULATION.

There must be something of intoxication in exceedingly large gains made with unusual rapidity. At least, that is the only way in which we can account (says the Spectator) for the extraordinary stupidity which men of undoubted ability sometimes exhibit when their speculations grow too big. After giving an account of the copper monopoly, as an illustration, it proceeds to ask—why do unmistakably able and experienced men, men who have succeeded in business, risk splendid fortunes in speculations almost palpably impossible? That they should buy up perishable articles of prime necessity, we can understand, for they are sure of an unending market, and therefore of a long time to «get out» but that they should buy up an imperishable article, like copper, not of absolute necessity except for some limited electrical requirements, and this in the face of an over-supply which was ruining little producers, and then, in the teeth of statistics, should buy more and more copper, and make longer and longer contracts, this is to mere observers a real intellectual puzzle.

We shall be told that with some of them the compelling force was vanity, which is as strong with some business men as with littérateurs and poets; that with others it was the well-known dislike to make a loss and be done with the matter; and with others, positive inability to face their bankers and other lenders of necessary cash. But there must be some reason beyond all this, Our contention, and, right or wrong, it is that of persons far more qualified than ourselves, is that at one time everybody in the speculation could have got out with a moderate profit, and that the amazing thing is not the original operation—which had only this fault, that it was too big for any ordinary knowledge even of one trade—but the later undertakings.

We cannot but suspect that cool business men get intoxicated with gain, even if it is only visible on paper; that they think anything possible, that they lose the sense of proportion, and that the impulse which so often destroys conquerors comes upon them also, Their brains cease to act steadily. We see that in small individuals every day, and the big men have no exemption from human disqualifications, It is not at all likely that any man at the centre of the copper speculation was more qualified to conduct it than Napoleon was to conduct his later wars. He could not know his maps better, or have the essential figures more perfectly at his fingers' ends. Yet we all know that Napoleon was beaten, and not wholly by Providence or fate; that success had, in some way which none of us quite understand, but which all of us instinctively compare to drunkenness, impaired his mental power.

We do not see why a speculator should not suffer from deterioration of brain or morale, or both, as well as Napoleon; and we believe that it happens much oftener than is at all suspected. At a point in his career the great financier has, in fact, no judgment, is subject to the mania which infects speculators in Mississipi or South Sea stock, and must land all who follow him in greater or less loss. That, and not ill-intent, is our own explanation of M. de Lesseps, whose «campaign of Russia» was the Panama Canal; and it is one which our readers will do well to recollect, for the special peculiarity of the speculation of to-day is the readiness to follow successful and wealthy individuals into anything, however wild, or however, demonstrably certain to end in final disaster.

SOMETHING LIKE BILLIARDS. ROBERTS (CHAMPION) v. COOK (EX-CHAMPION.

The 12,000-up spot-barred match between these players (Cook receiving 4,000 start), which has been in progress during the week at Roberts's well-appointed room, 14, Grafton-street, Bond-street, W., has not only attracted large and influential companies, but has also been productive of some exceptionally fine play on the part of the champion. John Roberts Jun's first effort on Thursday afternoon was a marvellous one, and although the total only reached 345 he was enabled to establish a new record by in the most masterly manner making no fewer than 108 consecutive nursery cannons. In accumulating these he started just below the left top pocket. After cleverly clearing this he worked the balls along the top cushion, past the right top pocket, then down the right-hand cushion, until he had passed the centre pocket, the second shot after getting by this proving fatal.

In addition to this extraordinary run of cannons Roberts has delighted patrons by the other splendid exhibitions he has given in many other breaks sequences of delicate nursery cannons Starting on Monday at his third effort scoring a magnificent break of 426 Roberts up till Friday night had twenty-one breaks of over a hundred credited to him, seven of over two hundred, and two exceeding three hundred, whilst his breaks of between fifty and one hundred have been innumerable. Rapidly overhauling his opponent, the champion on Friday afternoon took the lead, and, at one time was leading by over two hundred, and, playing in magnificent style on Friday evening, whilst Cook was right off colour, he left off with a lead of 866, and an advantage on handicap terms of 1,532 points. The play this (Saturday) afternoon was witnessed by a large company, and was of the most brillant description. Cook especially being in form, and compiling a really splendid break of 324 (37, 25, 41, and 22 cannons) in his very best style.

In addition to this he had runs of 41, 173, 38, 65, 56, 91, and 69 recorded to him, the champion in the meantime being responsible for contributions of 79, 165, 59, 174 (52 cannons), 61, 55, 70, 88, and 24, he altogether during the afternoon totalling 815, and Cook 924. The scores at the close of the afternoon's play were Roberts (to-play), 10,817; Cook, 10,050.

Resuming operations, Roberts, who had to open proceedings, only made 17 in his first attempt, but he quickly followed this up by contributions of 10, 148 (26 and 38 cannons), 36, and a truly magnificently-compiled contribution of 690 (17 and 59 cannons). This break was made by some of the most extraordinary play ever witnessed, and the champion eventually failed at a most difficult following cannon with a lot of screw on. He, however, only just missed by the merest shave.

This remarkable break was 88 in excess of the previous best of 604 which stood to the credit of the champion for some time. It is almost needless to add that Roberts was warmly applauded for this phenomenal performance. In addition to this, his other principal breaks were 57, 78, 28, 85, and 24 unfinished, and he won by 1,795 points. Full scores: —Roberts, 12,000; Cook, 10,205. By beating the record Roberts secured the £100 presented by Messrs. Burroughs and Watts, which was presented in the room by Mr. J. Burroughs, and was duly acknowledged by the champion, who scored at such a marvellous rate that he made 905 in forty-six minutes. The scores were accurately taken by W. Orme. The players were attended on by G. Cowly.

At a banquet given at Versailles Deputy Laguerre read a communication from General Boulanger, in which he compared the deeds of the present false republic with those of the republicans of 1789, and hoped that the reforms already begun would be carried out by the time of the centenary.

Amongst the papers to be examined by the Commission named to conduct the accusations against Boulanger, are 300 newspaper articles and a great number of visiting cards of the Generals upon which memoranda have been written.

There will be a charge against him that he tried to suborn the army, and misappropriated funds when he was Minister of War, also that he made seditions speeches just before the election of President Carnot. It is said that the Clemenceau can confirm this.

London 16.

It is said by a London Journal that Boulanger will go to North America for the fetes at the centenary of 1789 to collect money for his propaganda.

O'Brien has commenced an action against Lord Salisbury for remarks made in his recent speech at Watford.

Also the project for the prolongation of the Rampla Sud-America on the north of the Bay by Sr. Rovira.

Also the plans for the railway to Maldonado now in construction. Besides these the Commission is at this moment looking into other schemes which will be shortly despatched. One for an irrigation canal from San Ramon to Miguelete and from thence as far as the bar of the Bay, and the canalization of the rivulet Santa Lucia and Pantanoso for lighter traffic and as far as San José so that sea going ships can come up to that point. ## ARGENTINE NEWS

Tuesday, April 16.

PATTI gave the Barber of Seville as her second opera of the season on Saturday night. Those who then or ever saw her as Rosina need not be told that she is the only Rosina, no other artiste having approached the perfection of this rôle. In its refinement, inimitable grace, its versatility, and sublety of expression, it is as perfect as human art has achieved, and its creation is her own. The music furnishes full play for the flexibility of Patti's voice, which accounts for the favour in which the threadbare old production is held, when Patti is in it. The tenor suffered in comparison with Stagno, who will be remembered in it last year with Patti as superb; however, he was satisfactory, Figaro was given very satisfactorily; in fact, seldom have we seen the opera better done.

POLITEAMA.—On Sunday night the opera of «Un Ballo in Maschera» was given Sta. Domelli and Sr. Blanchard then making their first appearance in Buenos Aires. The former has a very nice voice and makes a pretty page. Sr. Blanchard is a good baritone; Sra. Colonnese was much applauded. The tenor Signorini unfortunately had a cold. To-night Mme Patti will sing in «Lucia.» Nothing more exquisite can be imagined than her singing and acting in the «mad scene» in this opera.

GOLD. — The Provincial Government had to pay the London and River Plate Bank £35,263 gold for interest and amortization on the bonds of the Riachuelo loan of 1881; and the Public Credit Office requested the Bank to ascertain from the National Bank the official premium on gold on April 10th, at which rate the office would pay in paper the amount due. The manager of the Bank refuses to accept payment in this way, for he says that there is now no official premium, that the declarations of the National Bank are not binding on the market, on private individuals or on the Provincial Government, and therefore it must be paid in gold.

TRIBUNA NACIONAL.—It is stated the negotiations are pending for buying the printing-office of the Tribuna Nacional for the purposes of the new Government organ. The price mentioned is $500,0 0.

ATTEMPTED FRAUD—A man has been arrested for forging tickets of the San Juan lottery. He gave instructions to Messrs. Kidd and Co. to print them, and that firm gave information of the fact to the police.

ROBBERIES—Sr. Hostett was robbed on Sunday in Plaza Vicente Lopez of a «victoria» and pair of horses which he left standing alone there for a few minutes.

On Sunday night, Don Manuel Sanchez was robbed of £60 in one of the streets of the 2nd section.

On Saturday afternoon, two men entered the house Montevideo 84, under the pretence of taking some rooms which were to be let, and, during a discussion about the rent, one of them pulled out a revolver and presented it at the mistress of the house, then they tied her arms and those of the servant and attached them to a piece of forniture, and afterwards the men coolly ransacked he house, and carried off all the money they could find, about $230. As soon as the two women could get free they gave the alarm, but the robbers have not been caught, though 20 known thieves have been arrested on suspicion.

ARRESTED—By order of the Chief of the Staff, Colonel Julian Vollajuson and several other officers have been placed under arrest for publishing in a newspaper a letter signed by them on a subject prohibited to be discussed in the press by officers of the army.

ATHLETIC SPORTS—The annual sports of the Southern Brown officials will take place at Lanus on Saturday next.

ACCIDENT—One of the night shunters at the General Bro in station of the Ensenata Line had his legs cut off on Sunday night by a cargo train which was shunting waggons.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS

London, March 23.

In the House of Lords yesterday the Marquis of Salisbury, questioned by Earl Granville as to a police visit to the manager and editor of the Armenian newspaper Haiasdan, in London, said that in answer to a communication he told the Turkish Ambassador the Government could not suppress newspapers. He, however, asked the Home Office to find out whether the paper was published in London or Paris. That was the object of the visit.

In the House of Commons numerous questions were asked in regard to Mr. Anderson's letter in The Times, the inquiry into the treatment of Mr. W. O'Brien, the new naval armaments, and the tithe war in Wales. Sir W. Harcourt, resuming the debate on the Vote on Account, criticised the course taken by the Attorney-General in becoming counsel for The Times. The Attorney-General replied. Other speakers included Mr. T. P. O'Connor, Sir J. Lubbock, Mr. J. Redmond, Mr. Chaplin, Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Parnell, Sir Henry James, Mr. J. Morley, and the Solicitor-General. The debate was of a very animated character throughout. At one point, where the Chairman ruled the Attorney-General out of order, there were loud Nationalist cheers, and Mr. Courtney ordered Mr. J. F. S. O'Brien to withdraw. It appeared, however, that Mr. O'Brien had not even opened his lips, and the Chairman then replied that he accepted the hon member's «disclaimer». The Attorney-General withdrew the words objected to. On a division, an amendment to reduce the Attorney-General's salary was rejected by 286 votes against 206, a majority of 80.

Polling to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Peacock, Liberal, took place in the Gorton Division yesterday. Our Correspondent telegraphs that the vote was a very heavy one. The counting will take place this morning.

In the Enfield Division the nomination has been fixed for Wednesday next, and the polling for the following Saturday.

Lord Hartington presided over the first meeting of the «Organizing Council of the Liberal Unionist Association of the United Kingdom», held yesterday at Westminster. In the course of an address he impressed upon a very small audience the importance of electoral work in the constituencies, especially among working men and those who had shown no active interest in public affairs. The Liberal Unionists, he contended, were not an extinct party. He found encouragement in the bye-elections that had taken place since the beginning of last year, contending that they showed an increase in the Unionist poll. Liberal Unionists ought to make no difficulty in accepting a close alliance with the Conservatives for their present purpose. He was confident that the alliance had placed no strain upon their Liberal principles. Lord Hartington was then elected Chairman of the Council, and other officers appointed.

Evidence as to the unaninatary condition of places in the chain and nail making districts of Staffordshire and Worcestershire was given yesterday before the House of Lords Committee on the sweating system.

A meeting of the Lancashire and Cheshire coal owners at Manchester yesterday confirmed a resolution passed by coal owners in London, expressing general approval of the principles of the proposed Coal Syndicate. Gentlemen were appointed to act on a committee to draw up suggestions.

Our Pesth Correspondent informs us that, after the passing of the Army Bill, M. Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, will reconstitute his Ministry. The present Minister of the Interior will retire, and M. Tisza will take over the duties of that department in place of the Ministry of Finance, which he now holds in conjunction with the Premiership. Two other Ministers will also leave the Cabinet.

Our Berlin Correspondent informs us that a further White Book on Samoa has been laid before the Reichstag. The most important document it contains is a despatch from Prince Bismarck to Dr. Stuebel, the German Consul at Apia, in which the aggressive conduct of Dr. Knappe, the former Consul, towards the other Consuls is severely censured.

The death of the age of 61 of Count Peter Schouvaloff, former Ambassador to Great Britain, is announced from St. Petersburg.

At Sandown Park yesterday Mr. Alexander took the Grand Military Gold Cup with St. Cross. The grand Military Hunt Cup fell to Ben, the Selling Hunters' Hurdle Race to Africa, the Army and Navy Hunters' Steeplechase to Cabin Boy, the Selling Hunters' Steeplechase to Earl Ronan, and the Grand Military Handicap Hunters' Steeplechase to Santa Rosalia. Lown won the Handicap Steeplechase at Four Oaks Park, Gladstone the Moseley Handicap Steeplechase, Jesuit the Maiden Hunters' Hurdle Race, Minstrel the Tamworth Hunters' Flat Race, Dilemma the Selling Hunter's Steeplechase, and Flint the Park Selling Handicap Hurdle Race.

Mr Duvivier, formerly a professor at the Royal Academy of Music, sought in the Queen's Bench Division yesterday to recover 3,000*l.* damages for slander from Mr. F. W. Davenport, another professor at the same) institution. It was alleged that the defendant had in conversation used words which imputed that the plaintiff had been dismissed from the Guildhall School of Music, and that he had behaved improperly towards pupils. For the defence it was contended that the words were not spoken in the sense alleged, but were uttered bona fide in the form of advice to pupils, and were, therefore, privileged. The hearing had not concluded at the rising of the Court.

The trial of Elizabeth Rowland, a qualified nurse, for several offences under the Bankruptcy Act was concluded at the Middlesex Session yesterday, after occupying more than two days. It appeared that the accused, who a short time ago possessed 3,000£, had lost money in litigation, and had been made bankrupt. It was now alleged that she had improperly disposed of money, and furniture. She was found guilty, and sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment as a second-class misdemeanant.

La White Sewing Machine Co.

Cleveland Ohio

«Estados Unidos»

Marzo de 1889.

A nuestros amigos de Montevideo:

Tenemos placer en comunicar á Vd. que la Máquina de coser WHITE recibió el único premio y Medalla en la gran Exposicion Centenario que tuvo lugar el año pasado en «Cincinate» de los Estados Unidos.

La Exposicion duraba nueve meses durante todo este tiempo la máquina WHITE estaba diariamente en competicion con las máquinas de coser Doméstica New Home, Singer y otras.

Los Jueces sobre las máquinas de coser han dado su decision en las siguientes palabras.

Leer lo que dicen los Jueces: por su simplicidad de construccion; durabilidad y adaptabilidad de sus piezas movibles; facilidad de manejar y ajustar; por ser las máquinas de coser mas silenciosas y livinnas. Nosotros damos á la White Sewing Machine Co. único premio y medalla para la mejor máquina de coser de familia. Firmado los Jueces.

No ha sido dado ningun otro premio por máquina de coser de familia en esta «Exposicion,» los avisos de otras Fábricas anunciando haber sacado medallas y premios en esta competicion es pura falsedad y mentira.

No tenemos deseo de engañar al público pero cuando honores vienen, sabemos llevar la corona de victoria nosotros mismos.

PERU.

Lima,

Every possible means of retarding the passage of the Grace contract is being employed by the recalcitrants in the Chamber of Deputies. Since the explosion of the ridiculous memorandum bomb, several other minor efforts have been resorted to, but now the majority has taken a firm stand, and matters appear much brighter. It has been pretty well established that the opposition party is not only in league with Chile but with the supporters of the Dreyfus interests, only recently so strongly supported by the government of France. Chilian influence, and it is stated, Chilian money, have been unsparingly used and it is strange that Peru shou d not be represented at Santiago at such a critical moment. Possibly the difficulties attending the mission, are so great as to detain anyone from ac epting it.

The Prefect of Callao has requested the Colombian Consul at Callao to repatriate those of his countrymen at that port, who have no established means of existence, and the Consul has referred the matter to the Legation at Lima. Ecuador and Chile have already taken steps in the affair, and have sent home many impoverished patriots from here.

The important railway from Lima to Pisco is now opened to contract by the government. Twenty-five years of monopoly are granted. and perpetual possession. The bids are to be opened 120 days from date. A bond of twenty thousand soles are to be deposited at the time of making the bid. Work is to be commenced within one year, and finished within five years. The estimated cost is about 6,000,000 silver soles, The road is a little over 100 miles in length and runs along the coast.

The English ships Sciflsure, and Conquest, and the Chilian Banco Encalada are the only men-of war in Callao Bay. The two English vessels leave shortly for Valparaiso.

The Argentine corvette Argentine arrived from Valparaiso on the 11th. On board is the young officer who, at a picnic in Valparaiso, drank to the health of Grau. He is a hero in Peruvian estimation, and will be made much of here.

There is little hope that the Donoughmore contract will be ratified by this Congress, and no one seems to be positive as to the convening of another extra session. The minority has adopted the plan of leaving the hall at the moment of taking the vote. and the majority has not a sufficient number to form a quorum. This is a most regretable condition of affairs, and Peru sees her last hopes of progress and prosperity crushed by the machinations of a few disloyal sons, who are deliberately playing into the hands of Chile. What this Republic will have to do is a problem of the greatest importance. Without assistance from abroad she is absolutely helpless.

Seven of the crew of the English sailing vessel Christina are in prison in Callao, accused of having set fire to the vessel mentioned whilst she was at anchor off Lobos de Afuera.

The Porvenir of Callao, said on Feb, 7th.—«The Local Sanitary Board met yesterday, and determined to submit the steamer Maipo to a five days quarantine, and, at the same time, to ask if this term should not count from a day prior to her passing Payta, were she was not received by the port authorities.

CHILIAN NEWS

H. E. the President has promised Iquique 100,000 dollars towards defraying the cost of a drainage system.

—The Compañia de Seguros de Tarapacá was to commence operation yesterday. This is a genuine Iquique company, and is certain to do a lucrative business,

—There were 330 prisoners in the jail in this city on Saturday last,

—On the 16th instant there were 521 inmates in San Juan de Dios hospital,

—Mr. Firth is in treaty with the Bolivian government for the construction of a railway to unite La Paz with Arica·

—The Angamos arrived on Monday morning with the body of Deputy Lecaros, which was disembarked at 11 a m. and was put into a special train for conveyance to Santiago. The deceased gentleman was Colonel of National Guards, and held the position of commandant of the N.° 2, Santiago battalion of national guards. The Coast Artillery battalion, accompanied by the police band, paid the military honors due to the rank of the deceased, and the body was accompanied to Santiago by a number of officers belonging to Santiago, No. 2, and to the civic artillery regiment of the capital.

—A few days ago a Greek boatman, named Anastasio Peypa, left Pisagua for Pisco in his boat in search of better fortune. He took on board a small stock of provisions and an old compass. On the fifth night of his voyage a whale capsized his boat and he took refuge on the keel, and for five days and nights—so the tale goes—he kept up a desperate battle with an oar against a number of sharks which tried their best to get at him but failed. He was finally picked up by the Coquimbo and taken to Arica.

—A San Cárlos paper says that Chilian emissaries have arrived from the Argentine republic with the object of recruiting immigrants for that country. They offer each immigrant 50 cuadras (nearly 200 acres) of land, a building lot in the new towns that are founded, and the right of pasturage on a square league of public lands. It is reported that from Mendoza to the latitude of San Cárlos there are 100,000 Chilians settled along the eastern base of the Andes.

—The partial inauguration of the Tarapacá Water Works took place at Pica on the 4th instant, when Mrs. Cochran, the wife of the contractor, Mr. Alexander Cochran, turned on the water to the tanks, of which there are three, each one being 50 by 17 feet and capable of containing 180,000 gallons of water. The curé of Pica blessed the tanks, pipes and water, and the ceremony wound up with a breakfast at Santa Cruz, at which Chile and England were heartily drunk to, and the company broke up highly pleased with the day's proceedings.

—The United States' commissioner, General J. G. Walker, who is charged with the duty of inviting South American countries to send representatives to the Conference to be held in Washington in October next, presented his credentials to the Minister for Foreign Affairs on the 14th instant.

—The Compañia Minera La Descubridora de Huantajaya is paying a dividend of one per cent.

—Messrs. Francis A. Kelly and F. Boyd have secured the contract from the American Syndicate for the construction of the Valdivia and Osorno Railway for 7,500,000 dollars. This price does not include rolling stock, permanent way and bridges. The contractors are experienced railway men, and the official estimate of the Valdivia and Osorno line is said to be the fairest of all the estimates of the projected new railways,

The Sociedad de Fomento Fabril is about to organize the first of the proposed annual exhibits of national industries.

—The commission appointed to organize the festivities on the occasion of the inauguration of work on the Transandine railway on the 5th proximo, at Los Andes, has invited the Governor, the Ministry, and the Municipality of Mendoza to be present at the ceremony

—Whooping-cough is reported to be carrying off many children in Chillan.

—The new Municipal Law is not working smoothly. Here, the Intendent and a municipal minority, are again at loggerheads with the Mayor and a municipal majority; while in Santiago a municipal majority has resolved not to meet again until the Mayor, don Ambrosio Rodriguez Ojeda, resigns his position, which he flatly refuses to do.
